SEATTLE

1. Reuben's house in North Las Vegas was used as a base to plan for the heist.
2. Livingston was the tech-guy, a surveillance specialist who moonlights for the FBI in Houston.
3. Saul Bloom was guilted out of retirement in St. Petersburg, FL.
4. An old acquaintance of Danny and Rusty, Frank is an experienced card dealer who has left his mark in various Las Vegas casinos.
5. Basher is the ammunitions expert of the team who was planning on breaking into the headquarters of the Wachovia Bank in Charlotte before Danny recruited him.
6. Danny managed to catch his flight to California from La Guardia airport to re-unite with his old time friend Rusty.
7. Danny, a gentleman-thief from New York, was paroled from the prison but he took the liberty of leaving New Jersey to go after Terry Benedict who stole his wife.
8. Danny goes to Chicago to recruit the young but highly skilled pickpocket Linus Caldwell, son of the infamous thief Bobby Caldwell.
9. The Malloy brothers, Turk and Virgil, were a humorous pair of car enthusiasts from Provo, Utah.
10. Danny saw a spirited performance by Yen at a circus in St. Louis and decided to bring him for his flexibility and short posture. He was the second of the two newbies in the group.
11. Rusty and Danny met in Pittsburgh and have known each other for a long time. He was Danny's right-hand man and was the logistical heart of all the crew's operations.

I have done some terrible things in my life and the key to unlocking the mystery lies at the end of the airport. Let's see if you can catch me.
