CPC Makes Travel History

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CPC Air (Redmond, WA), the region's best airline, is ready to announce a revolutionary innovation. Long under the radar, the research arm of CPC Air plans to go public with their new product, CPC Express.

Express is the culmination of a multi-year project to radically change the travel industry. A common problem which affects current travelers is the fact that luggage is often delivered late to the destination. Various solutions have been attempted by multiple parties before CPC Air's breakthrough with Express technology.

Express will be available to all travelers of CPC Air by 2018:

- 1/22 - Yearly subscribers to the CPC mailing list get early access to Express.
- 5/12 - Express becomes the default option for baggage handling.
- 12/9 - All other baggage handling options are removed from the service.

Researchers in the field have expressed much excitement at the announcement. Some say it will make all past travel experiences obsolete. An expert in travel who preferred to remain unnamed had the following to say: "Never before have I been so excited to witness the trials of an unproven experiment. Definitely a game-changer."

Details about the science behind Express will be released in a future event. A public demonstration will be held at the College Puzzle Challenge later this year. Tests will continue to be performed at the CPC research facility.

Express has been a work in progress since the recruitment of the research team in 2005.
