Time To Explore

Thank you for paying attention to our travel safety demonstration (also known as the past three correspondences you have received). We're sure you're super excited to hear the three things we are promising for the Express launch event (also known as this Saturday's event). Since you've been diligently following every step of the travel safety demonstration, you obviously know which three things we are promising.

But now, it's time to explore! What are we going to explore?
