Jar Heads

Futurama Labs has developed the technology to keep human heads alive in jars. This is possible due to the incredible additive properties of crystalline opal. We periodically add some to make time stands still inside each jar – that's why our heads never age! Unfortunately, we have a finite supply which is running out. What else can we add to our jars?

$$\text{atom} + \text{atom} + \text{atom} + \text{atom} + \text{atom} + \text{atom} + \text{atom} = \text{atom} + \text{atom}$$
