Each group of fish (same type, facing the same direction) corresponds to a letter in Morse code (ref: fraternal bonds). The longer, larger fish correspond to dashes, and the smaller, shorter fish correspond to dots. Altogether, the fish spell out "POP THE BLUE BUBBLES". Removing the dots and dashes corresponding to fish in blue-bubble regions modifies each letter in the clue, keeps it the same, or removes it completely. Decrypting the resulting Morse code a second time reveals the answer.
