I think these are the lines for the next scene.

But, I thought he said the order doesn't matter?

He meant that the order of these is the only ordering that matters.

That makes sense, cause obviously if these are the lines they're in the order they need to be in.

I just found this bumper sticker, I'm pretty sure it's an important part of this scene.

Maybe we can use the bumper sticker to shorten the lines for this scene?

Maybe, but first let's try and figure out what these mean.
