

Answer the clues and realize what they have in common (the title may help you with this). Ignore whether there are one or two clues in each box. Treat each letter individually and look at the letters as they exist across boxes. See the letters on the grid and order things appropriately (the title may once again help you with this).

American Pro Wrestler Flair, "The Nature Boy" According to Ricky Bobby, if you ain't first, you're this.	Tour de France and Daytona 500 Don't include	A car has four of them touching the road, flat ones suck Former home of NFL's Rams and Raiders
What most students do the night before a test Bottom of a foot	Genderless pronoun	More popular than net and org Lisa Lopes's contribution to band name
Grand __, 4 score baseball play Earth has a solid inner and liquid outer one	"__ the Jackal" - character in The Bourne Identity with real life basis __ "The Tool Man" Taylor	US pro soccer org. Rock band or object used to row
Medieval weapon or spray used for protection from criminals Latin for star at center of this solar system	la ... do	Equivalent volume of cc Logical disjunction
Italia's capital "__ Punk!" - Movie taking place in Utah	Male equivalent of ma'am Type might be black, oolong, green or white	"...sharks with frickin __ beams attached to their heads." "__ money __ problems," either of the missing words