

Corporate Mergers

This memo was found on the sidewalk where one of the alleged criminals was last captured by closed circuit cameras. Understanding more about the order of these mergers may lead us to parent company and hopefully the Rosetta stone.

TO: All employees

We have slowly been slipping out of our stronghold in the market. We need to take a more dominant position, and in order to do so, our board has identified the following companies that could lead to strategic mergers. Please evaluate them and help determine which order we should go after these companies. After finding the appropriate order, we'll read down the list and see if anything stands out.
